If you are not yet logged in with Banner Health credentials, you will be prompted to do so with Banner's single-sign-on two-factor authentication.

If you are already logged with Banner credentials, you should see the Pharmacist's Letter site, with "Logged in as Banner Health" in the upper right. Being logged in as Banner allows you to view article content, but does not keep track of personal CE activities. Make sure you are logged into Banner's account before setting up your own profile. Click on the Create Username button in the upper right to create a personal account.

The screenshot shows the Pharmacist's Letter website interface. At the top, there is a browser address bar with the URL <https://pharmacist.therapeuticresearch.com/Home/PL>. Below the address bar, there are several utility links: Library Home - Librar..., EBSCOadmin > Login, ECM Admin, Athens admin, Log In to DOCLINE, PubMed, Capture Reference, and Banner - University M... A search bar is located on the right side of the page. The main navigation menu includes: HOME, LETTER, BROWSE, PODCASTS, DRUG CHARTS, FORUM, CE/CME & TRAINING, and HELP. The CE/CME & TRAINING menu is expanded, showing options: CE Organizer, Available Courses, My Completions, and Live Webinars. An arrow points to the CE Organizer option. The main content area features a featured article titled "Know What's New With RSV Vaccines for Older Adults" under the "AUGUST 2024 ISSUE" section. Below the article, there is a section for "INTERACTIVE SELF-STUDY CE:" with an image of a stethoscope and pills.
